The prospects for a successful cattle and sheep raising season never looked better in Bent county. The rains of the past week are estimated to be worth a quarter of a million dollars to the county.—Las Animas (Colo.) Leader.

Wheat is about ready to harvest in Tennessee and Georgia, and the yield will be splendid.

There is actually some alarm among Kentucky Democrats about the state going Republican.

A bee flying into the open mouth of a Colorado man, stung him in the throat. The swelling choked him to death.

It is estimated that from what is deemed reliable data that there will be full 6,000,000 acres of corn planted in Kansas this season.

The number of sheep in Kansas has increased two hundred fold within the last two years, and the wool clip this year will not fall short of 10,000,000 pounds.

Reports from various sections of Missouri and Kansas show that chinch bugs are doing very little damage to the wheat, and they have very little more time to put in their work.

Maj. De Lum, a cattle man, bought last week, in Wichita, 135,000 pounds of barbed wire, to fence in about 400,000 acres of land in the Indian Territory, which he has leased from the Cherokees.

The Topeka Capital says: If Gov. St. John should take a notion to convene the Legislature in June, wouldn't it be funny? The Capital knows what it is talking about. We presume the Legislature will be called.

Col Payne, the great Oklahoma invader, with ten wagons and sixty-five men from Wichita and Wellington, has crossed the Kansas line en route to Oklahoma. He will be joined by fourteen wagons and fifty-five men from Parsons, and if attempts are made to remove the invaders they will claim to be on government land and raise the question of title.

As has been heretofore stated in the Indicator, the drive of cattle from Texas this year promises to exceed last year by about 50,000 head. The "drive" proper will be principally ones and twos, and of these about one-half have been already contracted for, and two-fifths of the remainder go to northern ranches, leaving about 85,000 to 100,000 young cattle for sale.—K. C. Commercial Indicator.

It is predicted that the wheat crop of Kansas this year will exceed the crop of 1878, when the product was 38,000,000 bushels. The reports from various sections of the State give very flattering prospects of the growing wheat. Reports concerning the condition of the growing crops received from all parts of the United States make an exceptionally favorable showing, and indicate excellent harvest. The wheat crop of California will be larger than for some years, as a greater area has been sown and the rain fall has been ample. Wheat is beginning to be raised in the south, and one of the most interesting recent statements is that of the new crop of this grain in Georgia. Throughout the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri valleys and the northwest the wheat looks well, and the recent cold weather has not been unfavorable.

The railroad company have sold six sections of land in the vicinity of Lakin recently contiguous to the irrigating canal. Irrigation seems to have proved a complete success in that locality, and a lively demand has sprung up for desirable lands in consequence. It is claimed that in a few years we can have a full supply of fruits and vegetables from that region. We learn that the company contemplate in time extending their canal as far as this point, keeping on the up-land, thus affording the owners of land on the slope towards the river the advantage of irrigation at the low rental of one dollar an acre per annum.—Kinsley Republican Graphic.

THE ARIZONA TROUBLES.

To the Editor of the Dodge City Times.

TOMBSTONE, ARIZONA, May 7, 1882.

The singular and anomalous condition of the law, its makers, breakers, and manipulators, deserve I think a space in your columns, more especially as the leading actors, the Earps and Dock Holliday, are well known in your famous city. The feud undoubtedly originated from the fact that the McLowrey and Clanton party were not permitted "to run the town," while Earp was Marshal; this culminated in the shooting of McLowrey and Clanton by the Earps, then came the assassination of Morgan Earp through a window, and the shooting one dark night of Virgil Earp from a vacant building; this was followed by the killing of one Sullwell a known stage robber and supposed murderer of Morgan. The Sheriff now turned all his energy toward avenging the death of the stage robber, and though five or six assassinations of citizens known to be friendly to the Earps followed, among them the son of Judge Peel, the Sheriff with 18 or 20 cow-boy deputies, has turned all his official power toward the extermination of the Earps. Judge Peel declares the Sheriff has never spoken to him about the murder of his son. This peculiar conduct of the Sheriff was more than the citizens could swallow and on their appeal the Governor has now appointed thirty men under United States Marshal Thayer, if possible, to apprehend the murderers. Another petition is being quietly circulated requesting the Governor to recall the Earps, as the citizens claim they were the only ones who dared cope with the cattle thieves and stage robbers. I find the feeling is universal among the law and order party, that the Earp party are the only ones that can restore order and security of life and property. The enmity of the Sheriff toward Wyatt Earp and his brothers is well known to be caused mainly by the latter's success in the arrest and cleaning out of the thieves and highwaymen who infested this appropriately named city. The charge that Holliday or the Earps were in league with such men as Ed. Burns or Off Wheeler, all parties here disclaim, as the former were in fact the parties who drove these thugs out of the Territory.

FAIR PLAY.

OBITUARY.

Died in this city, Saturday, May 13, 1882, of apoplexy, JOSEPH S. ARMSTRONG, aged 40 years, 1 month, and 17 days. The deceased was born in Ohio, and removed to Kansas from Michigan about six years ago. He resided in the vicinity of Dodge City about five years. The deceased was a hard-working, industrious man, and the partial support of his widowed mother. Mrs. W. W. F. Clement, of Great Bend, is a sister of the deceased. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of the community in the sudden demise of a dutiful and affectionate son, a kind and loving brother, and a true and faithful friend.

The family and relatives of the deceased have our condolences in their affliction. The taking away of a son and brother in the prime and vigor of manhood, and under such unfortunate circumstances, is a trying ordeal, but—

What will it matter

By and by

Whether our path below was bright.

Whether it shone through dark or light—

Under a gray or golden sky—

What will it matter,

By and by?

Weep not, my friends! rather rejoice with me. I shall not feel the pain, but shall be gone. And you will have another friend in heaven. Tears start not at the creaking of the door. Through which I pass, I see what lies beyond it.

And in your life let my remembrance linger.

As something not to trouble and disturb it.

But to complete it, adding life to life.

And if at times beside the evening fire

You see my face among the other faces,

Let it not be regarded as a ghost

That haunts your house, but as a ghost that loves you.

May, even as one of your own family

Without whose presence there were something wanting.

—Longfellow.

A CARD.—I wish to return my sincere thanks to the many friends who extended their sympathy to me in my sad bereavement.

Mrs. B. L. ARMSTRONG.
